Frosty

"Go fly a kite!"

It's not a bad idea. It may even be good theology.

As a boy I loved to make the old-fashioned diamond-shaped kites with long tails made out of discarded rags tied together. I remember my dad helping me launch my kite toward heaven, and seeing it float gently upward, becoming smaller and smaller as the string gently tugged against my fingers. As I lay in the quiet dark of my room at night I could still feel the wind in my hair and the gently pull of the string.

"The wind blows where it wills, and you hear the sound of it, but you do not know whence it comes or whither it goes; so it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit. (John 3:8) Flying a kite may be a good spiritual exercise because it can remind us of the gently tugging and prodding of the Almighty in our lives.

It has been said that the plans we have for others are doomed to failure. This is also true of the plans we have for God. To paraphrase Thomas Aquinas: we propose and God disposes. Sometimes we feel sidetracked in life as our plans fall apart. Sometimes we feel that God is remote from the day-to-day decisions of our lives. But nothing could be farther from the truth. God speaks to us in the events and circumstances of life as well in the still small voice of the soul. Somehow--often in ways that we cannot understand--God is at work in our lives, tugging at us with the same gentleness that a wind tugs at a kite. All the while, sometimes against our desires, we are brought closer and closer to the promises of the Kingdom.

Sometime as the March winds blow in the warmth of Spring, I hope that my grandchildren ask me to fly a kite with them. I'll do it. And as that kite soars higher and higher in the sky, I will marvel at the hand of God in my life.

So, "Go fly a kite!"

LATEST UPDATE:

In three or four weeks, we will be asked to come back for priming and painting. I know there are a lot of you out there that enjoy this part of the process best. I don't have an exact date yet, but we have been asked to come two Saturdays in a row sometime between March 18th and April 8th. If anyone is interested in helping with the painting, please let me know. The more help, the better! Come on over and see the house sometime. It's going to be very nice when it's done.

Mike

JUNIOR HIGH - THIS MONTH IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

This month in Sunday school:

“I’m In”

Have you ever thought something worked one way, only to find it didn’t?

Like maybe as a kid you thought the bathtub drain was a death trap. Then you learned it couldn’t actually suck you into the sewer and that was a game changer.

Or maybe you were sure that the closet should be avoided because monsters lived there. Then you learned they didn’t. That changed your morning routine for sure.

Any time you learn new information, it can turn your world upside down.

Jesus had a habit of doing just that with the people closest to Him. He often did or said things that were the exact opposite of what anyone expected. He’d take ideas that everyone agreed with, ideas that everyone would say, “Of course, that’s just the way it is,” and He’d flip them upside down. He would tell people to do the exact opposite of what they thought.

This was especially true when Jesus talked about how we treat people, specifically people who like us, people who don’t, and people we don’t even notice.

THIS MONTH IN SUNDAY SCHOOL*"I'M IN" continued from February

"Are you in?" It's a question we all answer over and over again. Some of Jesus' friends were faced with the same decision of whether they were "in" or "out." They had good reasons to join the Jesus movement, but they also had some pretty compelling reasons to step out - things like doubt, guilt, pride, and the fear of what they might miss.

As we get to know these sometimes famous and devoted followers, we'll talk about the decision they faced, why they could have walked away, and what led them to say, "I'm in."

ONE GREAT HOUR OF SHARING

The One Great Hour of Sharing, begun shortly after World War II to help meet the mission needs of a world recovering from the devastation of the war, today the One Great Hour of Sharing continues to be an interdenominational mission offering that cares for the least, the last and the lost as Christians around the world do the work of God's Kingdom. This is FFC's only "denominational" offering. Unless otherwise indicated, the proceeds are divided between the United Church of Christ's support of global mission work through Church World Service and the Presbyterian Church (USA)'s Presbyterian Disaster Assistance program.

The OGHS collection will be received on Sunday, March 26th.
An envelope is included in this newsletter.
